

FINAL REPORT

List of educational activities

- I gave a report on United States coinage in which I discussed a variety of topics. These topics included:
 - The history of U.S. and Colonial coins
 - Regular Mint issues
 - Commemeratives
 - Patterns
 - Private and Territorial coins
 - Confederate coinage
 - Hawaiian coinage and tokens
 - Tokens (in specific Hard Times tokens)
 - Proof issues
 - Misstruck coins
 - Pricing of coins
 - Grading of coins
 - Famous collectors
 - Numismatic organizations

With the report, I displayed a few coins from my collection. Two of the coins I displayed were a 1937-D 50¢ Oregon Trail and an 1834 5$ gold piece.

After the report, I distributed the various materials I received from you along with an application for membership in the A.N.A. to each person.

To Whom It May Concern:

Earlier in this semester, Paul Gordon asked to address our eighth grade class on the subject of American coins. As Paul is an outstanding student and as this seemed an appropriate subject for our area of study (United States History), I agreed.

For more than half an hour, Paul held the full attention of his classmates and drew eager questions from them and finally enthusiastic applause.

His discussion was admirably well organized and presented. He began with a general discussion and introduction of early American coins and minting procedures. He discussed gold coins, commemorative coins and rare coins and explained what these designations mean. During his discussion, he displayed photos and even passed around his own special treasures from his collection. He trusted his classmates to handle them carefully, realizing that his talk would be even more interesting to them if they had the opportunity to see the subject closely. The students were completely absorbed by Paul's presentation, and I would not be surprised if future collectors were produced that morning. We are all very grateful to Paul for the fascinating look at America's history through her coins. I commend him most heartily and thank him most sincerely.

Very truly yours,

FINAL REPORT

Attach a report of educational activities conducted in observance of National Coin Week 1983. Supplement your report with documentation, such as press clippings, letters of acknowledgement, programs, bulletins and photographs. The quality of your presentation and documentation will be considered when reports are chosen for publication in THE NUMISMATIST. Large, elaborate reports are discouraged, but reports in scrapbook form are quite suitable and should be considered.

New ANA members recruited during your National Coin Week campaign should be listed on the reverse of this form.

CERTIFICATES OF PARTICIPATION

Certificates will be provided to clubs and individuals submitting FINAL REPORTS and to the individuals and organizations designated by them. Your report should include a printed or typewritten list of club members, institutions and other individuals whose support contributed significantly to the success of your local National Coin Week campaign. Certificates will be sent to the above address for distribution.

All FINAL REPORTS should be sent First Class Mail, postmarked on or before May 25, 1984, to
